SEASON 1947

KENWOOD IRIS GARDENS HEMEROCALLIS LIST

(Mrs. J. F. Emigholz)
Sycamore 7496

7595 Montgomery Road

Cincinnati 27, Ohio

Have you seen the new daylilies? They are a remarkable improvement over the older varieties. There is a great variation in the color patterns, from bicolors to contrasting eye zones on the petals, and the blending of many tints into attractive colorings. You cannot equal them for ease of growth and dependability of bloom. By selecting early and late varieties, you can have them in bloom from the middle of May to the 10th of August in our locality. Try either named varieties or seedlings in a naturalistic planting. You will be pleased by their performance. Each year new improved varieties in the different colors are added to the list.

The plants need at least a half-day's sun to bloom, and are at their best in a sunny location. Heat and dryness affect them little, but some water should be given during dry spells to receive maximum size of bloom. Allow 2 feet between plants for normal growth. Local orders can be dug any time, but mail orders are sent only in early spring or after the blooming season. Several kinds often bloom again in fall and are marked "X" before the name. Many varieties are delightfully fragrant.

COLOR LISTING: Varieties are placed in color groups. The Betscher hybrids were used as a basis for numbering varieties as to depth of color in the yellow and orange shades, as they are standard varieties in a wide color range, and begin with "1." Those labeled "0" are lighter. Other varieties having the same color as any of these, are given the same number. Nearly all varieties having the same number may be entirely different in form, size of flower and height. The numbers aid only in color selection. Any comment as to the value of these numbers would be appreciated, as no one else has it, and it was an idea of mine to help you select different colors.

TRANSPORTATION: Strong single divisions are sent postpaid. Heavier plants of the less expensive varieties will be given, if sent express collect. No mail orders are accepted under $2.00. Ohio customers add sales tax.

SEEDLINGS: A number of interesting colors have appeared and these plants have been re-set for further testing. Mixtures only are offered. All will bloom for you next year. Do you want a thrill? Try them. Many have written, expressing their pleasure of them.

FINE MIXTURE: Includes all colors in a balanced mixture. 8 for $2.50 postpaid, 20 for $5.00, 50 for $10.00, express collect. For early spring or fall.

KENWOOD SERIES: An extra fine selection, labeled as to color. A few pale yellows will be included. For fall only. Only a few sets available. 6 for $3.00, postpaid, 12 for $5.00, 25 for $9.00, express collect.
